

Group Readings

Thank you for your interest in booking a group reading!

Please review the following guidelines and share them with all your potential guests. This will ensure that everyone knows what to expect during your group reading experience.

Private Group Readings: Connect with Spirit In The Comfort of Your Home

Thank you for considering a private in-person group reading with me. I appreciate the opportunity to connect you with your departed loved ones in the comfort of your own home. During our time together, I will attend your location and provide mediumship readings to as many people as possible within the designated time frame.

While I strive to provide messages to as many individuals as I can, please understand that I have no control over who comes through from the spirit world, what they wish to say (it's always loving and positive), and how long it may take.

Every person in attendance will benefit from hearing the messages that come through. The spirit world has an incredible way of bringing forth messages that touch every soul present. You may feel a deep connection to a particular message, as if it was meant specifically for you. This is one of the many ways mediumship helps heal hearts.

Private Group Readings: Connect with Spirit In The Comfort of Your Home

Information for All Attendees:

Energy Matters:

Please approach the event with an open mind and an open heart. Your energy is just as significant as mine. Any energy that is not aligned with openness can hinder the medium's ability to connect with spirits on the other side.

Embrace the Experience:

Be open to whomever in spirit comes forward and whatever they wish to share with you. Channeling spirits requires a great deal of energy and effort, and they know what you need in that moment.

Trust Spirit:

The spirit world may not always bring through what you want, but they always bring through what you need. There is a purpose behind each spirit stepping forward, so please allow them the opportunity to connect and support you.

Host Information:

- To the host, you are responsible for the attendees at your event.
- Video or audio recordings are not allowed without prior permission from Courtney Dawson or a member of her team.
- Kindly ask guests to avoid alcohol or recreational drugs before and during the event, as this can impact the energy and my ability to establish a connection with spirits.

- Upon booking, please include the host's full name, phone number, email address, and event location.

I am excited to connect you and your guests with your departed loved ones in spirit.
